Music Studies is a Level 2 course

Learners undertaking this course require prior learning in music skills - playing and theory - for a selected instrument. The characteristic of Australian Music Examination Board Third Grade, St Cecilia School of Music Grade 3, and Trinity College London Grade 3 are indicative of the level of skills required. Learners will study Instrumental/Vocal Techniques, Styles of Music, Performance Skills, and Music Literacy. Music Studies prepares learners for Music Level 3 and University of Tasmania Foundation Practical Study.

Course Description

Music Studies provides opportunities for learners to gain skills, knowledge and understanding by performing, creating and listening to music. Learners gain an understanding of music and musicianship, and develop as musicians through an experience based program that promotes a coherent relationship between performing music, creating music and listening to music.

Learning will be enhanced by attending music performances and events wherever possible and practical.

Learning will be enhanced by participation in extra-/co-curricular music activities.

Rationale

Music is an expression of human experience. As an aural art form, music encompasses performing, composing, listening, analysing and communicating. Learners study elements of music with increasing depth and complexity. The study of music enhances the cognitive, affective, motor, social and personal skills of learners.

Through engaging in authentic learning experiences, learners build a relevant and meaningful context for their participation in the music community. Learners develop an aesthetic appreciation and enjoyment of music.

Aims

Music Studies aims to provide opportunities for learners to gain skills, knowledge and understanding by performing, creating and listening to music. Learners gain an understanding of music and musicianship, and develop as musicians through an experience based program that promotes a coherent relationship between the three music activities of performing, creating and listening to music.

Music Studies aims to develop learners' music literacy, theory knowledge and application, and aural skills.

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this course, learners will be able to:

1. present technically proficient music
2. perform with musicianship
3. create and present music statements
4. listen to music and describe the use of music elements, and their effects
5. recognise and use music elements in aural and written context
6. use basic research skills to investigate music topics
7. apply time management, planning and negotiation skills to complete music activities.

Access

Learners undertaking this course require prior learning in music skills – playing and theory – for a selected instrument. The characteristic of Australian Music Examination Board Third Grade, St Cecilia School of Music Grade 3, and Trinity College London Grade 3 are indicative of the level of skills required.

Pathways

Music Studies prepares learners for Music Level 3 and UTAS Foundation Practical Study.

Successful completion of this course may lead to a range of other TASC accredited courses in Audio Design, Music and the Performing Arts.

Resource Requirements

Learners will require:

- an instrument in good working order
- rehearsal space and performance venues
- access to reference materials and resources.

Course Size And Complexity

This course has a complexity level of 2.

At Level 2, the learner is expected to carry out tasks and activities that involve a range of knowledge and skills, including some basic theoretical and/or technical knowledge and skills. Limited judgement is required, such as making an appropriate selection from a range of given rules, guidelines or procedures. VET competencies at this level are often those characteristic of an AQF Certificate II.

This course has a size value of 15.

Course Requirements

Work submitted for assessment in Music Studies must be produced within the year of study, be unique to this course and not be work submitted for assessment for any other course.

Assessment

Criterion-based assessment is a form of outcomes assessment that identifies the extent of learner achievement at an appropriate end-point of study. Although assessment – as part of the learning program – is continuous, much of it is formative, and is done to help learners identify what they need to do to attain the maximum benefit from their study of the course. Therefore, assessment for summative reporting to TASC will focus on what both teacher and learner understand to reflect end-point achievement.

The standard of achievement each learner attains on each criterion is recorded as a rating 'A', 'B', or 'C', according to the outcomes specified in the standards section of the course.

A 't' notation must be used where a learner demonstrates any achievement against a criterion less than the standard specified for the 'C' rating.

A 'z' notation is to be used where a learner provides no evidence of achievement at all.

Providers offering this course must participate in quality assurance processes specified by TASC to ensure provider validity and comparability of standards across all awards. To learn more, see TASC's quality assurance processes and assessment information.

Internal assessment of all criteria will be made by the provider. Providers will report the learner's rating for each criterion to TASC.

Quality Assurance Process

The following processes will be facilitated by TASC to ensure there is:

- a match between the standards for achievement specified in the course and the skills and knowledge demonstrated by learners
- community confidence in the integrity and meaning of the qualification.

Process – TASC will verify that the provider's course delivery and assessment standards meet the course requirements and community expectations for fairness, integrity and validity of qualifications TASC issues. This will involve checking:

- learner attendance records; and
- course delivery plans (the sequence of course delivery/tasks and when assessments take place):
  - assessment instruments and rubrics (the 'rules' or marking guide used to judge achievement)
  - class records of assessment
  - examples of learner work that demonstrate the use of the marking guide
  - samples of current learner's work, including that related to any work requirements articulated in the course document.

This process will usually also include interviews with past and present learners. It will be scheduled by TASC using a risk-based approach.
