English Inquiry, 150 hours – Level 2

Focus area – Transdisciplinary projects

Courses aligned to the Years 9 to 12 Curriculum Framework belong to one of the five focus areas of Discipline-based study, Transdisciplinary projects, Professional studies, Work-based learning and Personal futures.

English Inquiry Level 2 is a Transdisciplinary projects course.

Transdisciplinary projects courses require learners to integrate, transfer and reflect on their prior knowledge, skills, attitudes and values in transdisciplinary ways. Learners will engage critically and creatively to integrate the learning and ways of working from multiple disciplines. Learners will produce outcomes that are only possible through the intersection between disciplines. Learners will share the outcomes of Transdisciplinary projects as appropriate to their methodology, and their exhibition of work will form a major element of their assessment. Learners will reflect upon their learning by evaluating their project outputs, the effectiveness of their methodology and the implications of their work on the pre-existing body of knowledge.

Transdisciplinary projects courses have three key features that guide teaching and learning:

- engage and ideate
- connect and apply
- exhibit and reflect.

For the purposes of this document, the term discipline is used to describe a recognised field of study or body of knowledge in a well-planned structure. Disciplines are defined by specialist knowledge, theories, concepts, methodology and terminology.

For the purposes of this document, transdisciplinary is used to describe an approach to teaching and learning which enables students to use learning or ways of working from multiple disciplines to explore a relevant concept, issue, or problem. It integrates the perspectives of a range of disciplines, resulting in a new and deeper understanding of the concept, issue or problem.

In this course learners will do this by:

- engaging in inquiry learning
- making meaning and personal connections from contemporary texts[†]
- accessing and locating information
- examining, brainstorming, questioning and presenting
- applying their learning in creative and critical ways
- responding to and producing a range of text types
- presenting, sharing, and reflecting on their learning experiences.

[†]In the English Inquiry suite of courses, transdisciplinary texts are defined as contemporary spoken, written and multimodal texts from English as the primary discipline and a range of other disciplines.

Rationale

English Inquiry Level 2 offers students opportunities to enjoy language and be empowered as functional, purposeful, creative and critical language users, who understand how transdisciplinary texts drawn from English and other disciplines can communicate and represent meaning.

This course is suited to learners who wish to consolidate and develop their knowledge, understanding and skills in English, by creating, comprehending, and responding to texts from a range of disciplines. Learners develop literacy skills by drawing on a variety of transdisciplinary resources to interpret and create texts for personal, cultural, social and aesthetic purposes. They learn how language use varies in different disciplines, according to purpose, context and audience, content, modes, mediums and how it is used effectively for a variety of purposes. They engage with different text types across a range of disciplines to support their understanding of themselves, their world and their place in it.

Learners engage with language and texts drawn from English and other discipline areas through inquiry-based learning experiences to foster:

- skills to communicate confidently and effectively in Standard Australian English
- skills to choose structures, language and language features to convey meaning
- skills to read and view for meaning, purpose, and to use, critique and appreciate a range of contemporary texts drawn from a range of discipline areas
- effective use of language to ideate, design and produce texts for a variety of purposes and audiences
- critical and imaginative thinking to explore their own world and the worlds of others
- active and critical interaction with transdisciplinary texts, and how language shapes meaning.

The purpose of Years 9 to 12 Education is to enable all learners to achieve their potential through Years 9 to 12 and beyond in further study, training or employment.

Years 9 to 12 Education enables personal empowerment, cultural transmission, preparation for citizenship and preparation for work.

This course is built on the principles of access, agency, excellence, balance, support and achievement as part of a range of programs that enables learners to access a diverse and flexible range of learning opportunities suited to their level of readiness, interests and aspirations.

Learning outcomes

On successful completion of this course learners will be able to:

1. use accurate and effective language to express and develop ideas
2. apply communication skills
3. describe how language choices in a variety of transdisciplinary texts[†] and contexts shape meaning and response
4. create oral, written and multimodal texts for different purposes in real or imagined contexts
5. apply inquiry skills to make and communicate meaning, through transdisciplinary study of English
6. examine how the structure and language of transdisciplinary texts[†] varies in different modes, media and contexts
7. describe language choices and their effects on audiences in a variety of transdisciplinary texts[†]
8. represent and interpret information, ideas, issues and language in transdisciplinary texts[†]

[†] contemporary spoken, written and multimodal texts from English and a range of disciplines

Integration of general capabilities and cross-curriculum priorities

The general capabilities addressed specifically in this course are:

- Critical and creative thinking
- Literacy

The cross-curriculum priorities enabled through this course are:

- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories and cultures
- Asia and Australia's engagement with Asia
- Sustainability

Course description

English Inquiry Level 2 is designed for learners who wish to consolidate and develop their knowledge, skills and understanding of English, by making purposeful connections with transdisciplinary texts from English as the primary discipline and a range of other disciplines. The course offers students opportunities for agency, and to enjoy language and be empowered as competent, confident and engaged users of English for a variety of purposes through inquiry-based learning. Learners develop their language, literacy and literary skills through transdisciplinary study of English, providing them with the skills to succeed in a wide range of post-secondary pathways.

Through engaging with a range of short, contemporary transdisciplinary texts students will learn about:

- how language works to communicate meaning
- language that persuades
- representations of national or local issues.

Learners will do this by:

- responding to a range of transdisciplinary texts
- creating texts for different purposes, contexts and audiences
- investigating a national or local issue of interest through an individual negotiated study.

Pathways

The English Inquiry Level 2 course enables learner continuity from Years 9-10 Australian Curriculum English and the English Inquiry Level 1 course.

The English Inquiry Level 2 course enables learner continuity into other Level 3 English courses but is not a pathway into either English Literature Level 3 or English Writing Level 3.

Course requirements

Access

There are no access restrictions for entry into this course.

Work submitted for assessment in other studies cannot be used for assessment in this course.

Therefore, a student cannot use work including, but not limited to, an independent study, folio, project or assignment presented for assessment for a TASC accredited course or recognised formal learning qualification including VET studies.

Resource requirements

Access to a computer, phone, and the internet.

Engagement with the community inside and outside the classroom through avenues such as visits, surveys, interviews, listening to guest speakers or excursions.

Course structure and delivery

Structure

This course consists of three 50-hour modules.

Module 1: Making meaning through responding and composing

Module 2: How can transdisciplinary text types be vehicles for arguments?

Module 3: Representations of issues in transdisciplinary texts

Delivery

The three modules must be delivered in order 1, 2 and 3.

Through inquiry and transdisciplinary approaches, learners refine their knowledge, skills and understanding of English. English is the primary discipline that will intersect with other disciplines in a customised and purposeful way as learners progress through the modules.

Each of the three modules in this course must have different topics, ideas and texts selected for transdisciplinary learning.

Course content

Module 1: Making meaning through responding and composing

Transdisciplinary connections between English as the primary discipline and other disciplines are used in this module to investigate the way language is used to communicate meaning in texts. The intersection of English and at least one other discipline enables learners to engage critically and creatively through the study of texts.

In this module, possible transdisciplinary connections with English may include, but are not exclusive to, Health and Physical Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Mixed Field, Science, Technologies and The Arts.

For example, learners may investigate how language and text features work to make and communicate meaning through:

- English and Health and Physical Education: how do recreational and professional sports-related texts communicate meaning? Possible stimuli could include, but are not limited to, sports marketing for events, teams, clubs, products and services, sports science fitness apps, public health campaigns and sports journalism and commentary.
- English and Mixed Field: how do differing work-related texts relevant to a particular occupation communicate meaning? These could include, but are not limited to:
 - travel and tourism, event management
 - entrepreneurial enterprise
 - trades
 - engineering
 - human resource management
 - law
 - music, film or television
 - hospitality
 - education
 - health and fitness¹.

Possible stimuli could include, but are not limited to, worksite instructions, project and event plans, proposals, reports, SMS communications, charts, production schedules and advertisements.

See Appendix 6 for text requirements.

Module 1 learning outcomes

The following learning outcomes are a focus of this module:

1. use accurate and effective language to express and develop ideas
2. apply communication skills
3. describe how language choices in a variety of transdisciplinary texts[†] and contexts shape meaning and response
4. create oral, written and multimodal texts[†] for different purposes in real or imagined contexts
5. apply inquiry skills to make and communicate meaning, through transdisciplinary study of English
6. examine how the structure and language of transdisciplinary texts[†] varies in different modes, media and contexts

[†] contemporary spoken, written and multimodal texts from English and a range of disciplines

Module 1 content

This module focuses on comprehending, creating and responding to the ideas and information presented in texts drawn from English as the primary discipline and other disciplines. Learners will employ a variety of strategies to assist comprehension. They will read, view and listen to transdisciplinary texts to connect, interpret and visualise ideas. They will learn how to respond personally and logically to texts, by questioning, using inferential reasoning and determining the importance of content and structure.

Learners will consider the language features, structures and genres of transdisciplinary texts, and how organisational features of texts help the audience to make meaning. Learning in this module emphasises the relationships between context, purpose and audience in different language modes and types of texts, and their impact on meaning. They will interact with others in a range of contexts. They will communicate ideas and information clearly and correctly in a range of contexts, real and imaginative. Learners will apply their understanding of language through the creation of texts for different purposes.

Key knowledge

- the conventions, structures, and language features of transdisciplinary texts
- strategies used in comprehending, communicating, and inquiring
- presentation conventions and techniques
- the conventions of spelling, punctuation, and syntax of Standard Australian English
- the process of creating, planning, drafting, revising, editing, and proofreading texts.

Consider the ways in which transdisciplinary texts communicate ideas, attitudes and values including:

- how texts are constructed for particular purposes, audiences and contexts
- the ways text structures, language features and narrative features are used to shape response.

Key skills

Use strategies and skills for comprehending transdisciplinary texts including:

- using structural and language features; for example, visual and aural cues to identify main ideas, supporting arguments and evidence
- predicting meaning using text structures and language features
- making personal connections with texts
- posing and answering questions to clarify meaning and promote deeper understanding of the text
- applying inquiry skills.

Using information for specific purposes and contexts by:

- locating, extracting information and ideas from texts using text features and structures
- using strategies and tools for collecting and processing information.

Create a range of texts by:

- using appropriate language, content and mode for different purposes and audiences
- using text structures and language features to communicate ideas and information in a range of mediums and digital technologies
- communicating and presenting ideas and information clearly
- using appropriate strategies to establish and maintain spoken communication
- developing appropriate vocabulary and using accurate spelling, punctuation and grammar
- using strategies for planning, recording sources of information and proofreading.

Module 1 work requirements summary

This module includes work requirements in the form of analytical, imaginative, interpretive or persuasive text types. Each response must evidence transdisciplinary study.

Learners must produce:

- one short oral response which can include multimodal elements
- one extended written response
- either one extended multimodal response print or non-print or one extended written response.

See Appendix 3 for the full specifications of the work requirements of this course.

Module 1 assessment

This module has a focus on criteria 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6.

Module 2: How can different text types be vehicles for arguments?

The focus of this module is to investigate the way different text types across a range of disciplines construct an argument. Possible transdisciplinary connections with English in this module include, but are not exclusive to, Humanities and Social Sciences, Sciences, Mathematics, Technologies and The Arts.

For example, learners may investigate how different text types can be vehicles for arguments through:

- English and The Arts: How do performances of songs and slam poetry present an argument?
- English and Humanities and Social Sciences: The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories and cultures: how do narratives present an argument? Possible stimuli could include, but are not limited to, articles on truth telling and short stories about culture, heritage and history.

See Appendix 6 for text requirements.

Module 2 learning outcomes

The following learning outcomes are a focus of this module:

1. use accurate and effective language to express and develop ideas
2. apply communication skills
3. describe how language choices in a variety of transdisciplinary texts[†] and contexts shape meaning and response
4. create oral, written and multimodal texts[†] for different purposes in real or imagined contexts
5. apply inquiry skills to make and communicate meaning, through transdisciplinary study of English
7. describe language choices and their effects on audiences in a variety of transdisciplinary texts[†]

[†] contemporary spoken, written and multimodal texts from English and a range of disciplines

Module 2 content

Module 2 focuses on interpreting ideas and arguments represented in a range of texts, forms, modes, and media drawn from both English and other discipline areas. Learners will analyse text structures and language features to identify the ideas, arguments and values expressed in texts. They will explore the use of language for persuasive effect, and the structure and presentation of arguments. They will consider different types of persuasive language, including written, spoken, and visual, and combinations of these, and how language is used to position the reader. Learners will make inferences about the purposes and the intended audiences of texts.

Learners will examine the connections between purpose and structure and how a text's meaning is influenced by the context in which it is created and received. They will integrate relevant information from texts to develop their own interpretations and positions. They will learn to interact appropriately and persuasively with others in a range of contexts. Analytical and creative skills are developed by focusing on how language selection, imagery, type of text and mode can achieve specific effects. They will analyse and create a range of text types using persuasive, visual and literary techniques to engage audiences in a range of modes and media.

Key knowledge

- that argument is deliberate staging of ideas and feelings, through spoken, visual and written language, in the development of a thesis to influence their response
- that texts offer an argument and that responses to texts are also an expression of an argument
- the features of analytical responses to texts that present an argument: structure, conventions, and language
- the conventions of discussion and debate such as active listening, checking for understanding and questioning.

Consider the ways in which context, purpose and audience influence meaning including

- the ways in which main ideas, arguments, values and supporting details are represented in transdisciplinary texts
- the use of language features and the effects of mediums, types of texts and text structures to influence responses
- the connections between purpose and structure and how a text's meaning is influenced by the context in which it is created and received.

Key skills

Use strategies and skills for comprehending transdisciplinary texts including

- interpreting and making inferences from content, text structures and language features
- summarising ideas and information presented in texts
- identifying similarities and differences between own response to texts and responses of others
- applying inquiry skills.

Using information for specific purposes and contexts by

- locating and selecting information from a variety of sources in a range of disciplines
- using evidence to support analytical responses
- using different strategies to select relevant information.

Create a range of texts

- using persuasive, visual and literary techniques to engage audiences in a range of modes, mediums and contexts
- selecting text structures, language features and visual techniques to communicate and represent ideas and information
- developing and presenting ideas and sound arguments
- applying the conventions of discussion and debate
- developing appropriate vocabulary and using accurate spelling, punctuation and grammar
- using strategies for planning, drafting and proofreading, and appropriate referencing.

Module 2 work requirements summary

This module includes work requirements in the form of analytical, imaginative, and persuasive text types. Each response must evidence transdisciplinary study between English and other disciplines.

- one extended written, analytical response
- a folio comprised of written or multimodal print or non-print: imaginative and persuasive pieces. Learners write persuasively about the same idea using different text types:
 - one extended imaginative narrative text, multimodal or written
 - one extended persuasive text, multimodal or written
 - one short context statement explaining the contention, the connection between text types, the purpose, the audience, oral or written.

See Appendix 3 for the full specifications of the work requirements of this course.

Module 2 assessment

This module has a focus on criteria 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7.

Module 3: Representations of issues in texts

In this module, a transdisciplinary approach is used to enable learners to select and investigate a national or local issue that is of interest and relevant to their learning needs. Through an individual negotiated study, learners investigate the ways in which the issue is represented in texts from the English discipline and at least one other discipline.

Possible transdisciplinary connections with English in this module include, but are not exclusive to, English and Health and Physical Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Mixed Field, Science, Technologies and The Arts. For example:

- English and Humanities and Social Sciences: learners investigate the representation of youth homelessness in Australia. Learners focus on one or more of the following aspects:
 - why youth homelessness is invisible
 - houseless versus homeless
 - causes of homelessness
 - place, identity and belonging
 - social justice, action and resolution.

Possible stimuli could include, but are not limited to, social and environmental websites, documentaries, government reports, data impact studies and biographies.

- English and Science: learners investigate the representation of wildlife preservation in Australia. Learners focus on one or more of the following aspects:
 - the preservation of endangered species
 - feral animals
 - ecotourism
 - plastics and other pollution
 - zoos and wildlife parks.

Possible stimuli could include, but are not limited to, digital media, environmental campaigns, educational television programs, scientific articles, impact studies and picture books.

Module 3 learning outcomes

The following learning outcomes are a focus of this module:

1. use accurate and effective language to express and develop ideas
2. apply communication skills
3. describe how language choices in a variety of transdisciplinary texts[†] and contexts shape meaning and response
4. create oral, written and multimodal texts[†] for different purposes in real or imagined contexts
5. apply inquiry skills to make and communicate meaning, through transdisciplinary study of English
8. represent and interpret information, ideas, issues and language in transdisciplinary texts[†].

[†] contemporary spoken, written and multimodal texts from English and a range of disciplines

Module 3 content

Module 3 requires learners to investigate a national or local issue of their choice and examine the way in which it is represented in texts drawn from both English and at least one other discipline area. Learners will continue to develop and use their understanding of argument and language. They will draw on their knowledge to express their viewpoints through persuasive language. Learners will further their understanding of the ways language, forms and features of texts, drawn from both English and other discipline areas, represent people, information and ideas. They will analyse and create a range of text types using persuasive, visual and literary techniques to engage audiences in a range of modes and media.

The knowledge and skills will either be new to the learner or an extension and consolidation of what was learnt in modules 1 and 2.

Key knowledge

- how to interpret ideas, issues and arguments in transdisciplinary texts
- the ways in which context, purpose and audience influence meaning
- how to negotiate.

Key skills

Use strategies and skills for comprehending transdisciplinary texts

- consolidating and extending comprehension and inquiry skills.

Use information for specific purposes and contexts

- consolidating and extending research skills.

Create a range of texts to consolidate and extend:

- literacy and language skills
- critical and creative thinking skills
- presentation skills
- communication and interacting skills.

Applying key knowledge and skills to the negotiated study

In module 3, learners will negotiate an individual study based on a national or local issue of their choice and examine the way in which it is represented in texts drawn from English and at least one other discipline. The negotiated study must comprise approximately 30 percent of the module time.

Learners will:

- select and negotiate one issue not previously studied in this course
- identify and negotiate an inquiry focus, in line with the selected issue
- identify and negotiate the transdisciplinary connections to be used in their study between the English discipline and in texts from at least one other discipline.
- self-select and negotiate three texts appropriate to the module focus, level of complexity and course standards. The texts chosen must enable transdisciplinary study.

Learners will:

- use a range of inquiry skills and processes to develop and communicate their learning
- engage with at least three text types in a range of written, oral, multimodal and digital forms
- establish and meet agreed time frames.

Learners will provide evidence of their learning throughout the stages of their inquiry through:

- an individual negotiated study
- a multimodal presentation developed and presented using the texts created in the negotiated study.

The negotiated study will comprise three different text types:

- one extended analytical response
- one extended persuasive or imaginative response
- one short interpretive oral presentation accompanied by a multimodal aide or an audio recording; for example, a podcast.

See Appendix 6 for the full specifications of the text requirements of this course.

See Appendix 7 for the negotiated study checklist that must be completed by the learner and signed off by the teacher.

Module 3 work requirements summary

This module includes the work requirement detailed in the module 3 content. It is an individual negotiated study containing three different text types:

- one extended analytical response
- one extended persuasive or imaginative response
- one short interpretive oral presentation accompanied by a multimodal aide or an audio recording; for example, a podcast.

See Appendix 3 for the full specifications of the work requirements of this course.

See Appendix 7 for the negotiated study checklist that must be completed by the learner and signed off by the teacher.

Module 3 assessment

This module has a focus on criteria 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8.

Assessment

Criterion-based assessment is a form of outcomes assessment that identifies the extent of learner achievement at an appropriate endpoint of study. Although assessment as part of the learning program is continuous, much of it is formative and is done to help learners identify what they need to do to attain the maximum benefit from their study of the course. Therefore, assessment for summative reporting to TASC will focus on what both teacher and learner understand to reflect endpoint achievement.

The standard of achievement each learner attains on each criterion is recorded as a rating 'A', 'B' or 'C', according to the outcomes specified in the standards section of the course.

A 't' notation must be used where a learner demonstrates any achievement against a criterion less than the standard specified for the 'C' rating.

A 'z' notation is to be used where a learner provides no evidence of achievement at all.

Internal assessment of all criteria will be made by the provider. Providers will report the learner's rating for each criterion to TASC.

Criteria

The assessment for English Inquiry Level 2 will be based on the degree to which the learner can:

1. use and control language
2. apply communication skills
3. describe how transdisciplinary texts[†] shape meaning and response
4. create a range of texts[†]
5. apply inquiry skills
6. describe the representation ideas in transdisciplinary texts[†]
7. describe the representation of ideas and arguments in different text types[†] and contexts
8. interpret the representation of issues in transdisciplinary texts[†].

Quality assurance

The following processes will be facilitated by TASC to ensure there is:

- a match between the standards of achievement specified in the course and the skills and knowledge demonstrated by individual learners
- community confidence in the integrity and meaning of the qualification.

Process

TASC will verify that the provider's course delivery and assessment meet the course requirements and community expectations for fairness, integrity and validity of qualifications TASC issues. This will involve checking:

- Provider standard 1: scope and sequence documentation:
 - course delivery plan
 - course assessment plan, assessment matrix
- Provider standard 2: student attendance records

- Provider standard 3: examples of assessments tools and instruments and associated rubrics and marking guides
- Provider standard 1 and 3: examples of student work including that related to any work requirements articulated in the course document
- Provider standard 4: class records of assessment

This process will be scheduled by TASC using a risk-based approach.

Qualifications and award requirements

The final award will be determined by the Office of Tasmanian Assessment, Standards and Certification from 8 ratings.

The minimum requirements for an award in this course are as follows:

EXCEPTIONAL ACHIEVEMENT (EA)

6 'A' ratings, 2 'B' ratings

HIGH ACHIEVEMENT (HA)

3 'A' ratings, 4 'B' ratings, 1 'C' rating

COMMENDABLE ACHIEVEMENT (CA)

4 'B' ratings, 3 'C' ratings

SATISFACTORY ACHIEVEMENT (SA)

6 'C' ratings

PRELIMINARY ACHIEVEMENT (PA)

4 'C' ratings

A learner who otherwise achieves the rating for a CA (Commendable Achievement) or SA (Satisfactory Achievement) award but who fails to show any evidence of achievement in one or more criteria ('z' notation) will be issued with a PA (Preliminary Achievement) award.

Course evaluation

Years 9-12 Learning will develop and regularly review and revise the curriculum. Course evaluation is informed by the experience of the course's implementation, delivery and assessment. More information about course evaluation can be found on the Years 11 and 12 website.

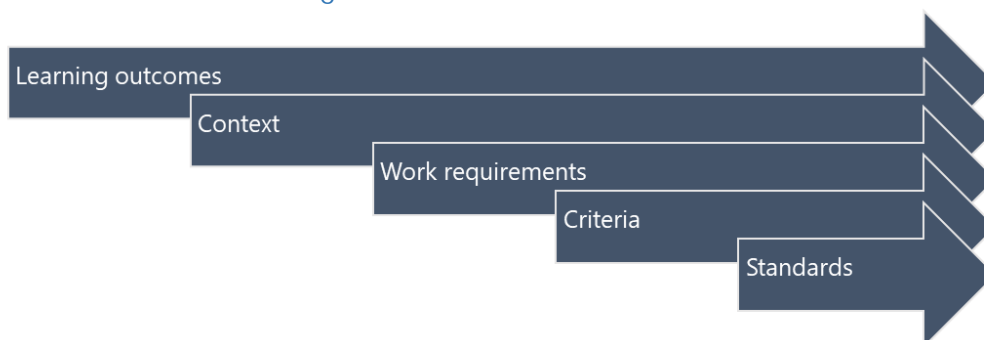

Course developer

This course has been developed by the Department of Education's Years 9-12 Learning Unit in collaboration with Catholic Education Tasmania and Independent Schools Tasmania.

Accreditation and version history

Version 1. Accredited on 14 April 2022 for use from 1 January 2023 to 31 December 2027.

Appendix 2 - Alignment to curriculum frameworks

English Inquiry Level 2 aligns with course content contained in:

- Senior Secondary Australian Curriculum: Essential English Units 1-2 through a transdisciplinary lens

Representation of Senior Secondary Australian Curriculum: Essential English Unit 1

Senior Secondary Australian Curriculum: Essential English Unit 1 learning outcomes:

- comprehend information, ideas and language in texts selected from everyday contexts
- understand language choices and the likely or intended effect of these choices in a range of texts
- create oral, written and multimodal texts appropriate for audience and purpose in everyday community, workplace and social contexts.

Are represented as:

- represent and comprehend information, ideas and language in texts
- understand language choices and the likely or intended effect of these choices in a range of texts
- create oral, written and multimodal texts appropriate for audience and purpose in real or imagined contexts.

All unit 1 content descriptors are articulated in the course content.

On two occasions, content descriptors have been amalgamated as evidenced through the representation and allocation of content codes below.

Consider the ways in which texts communicate ideas, attitudes and values including:

- how social, community and workplace texts are constructed for particular purposes, audiences and contexts (ACEEE005)
- the ways text structures, language features and narrative features are used to shape response (ACEEE006) (ACEEE007).

Use strategies and skills for comprehending texts including:

- using structural and language features; for example, visual and aural cues to identify main ideas, supporting arguments and evidence (ACEEE001)
- predicting meaning using text structures and language features (ACEEE002)
- making personal connections with texts (ACEEE003)
- questioning texts to draw conclusions (ACEEE004).

Use information for specific purposes and contexts by:

- locating, extracting information and ideas from texts, and using text features and structures (ACEEE008) (ACEEE009)
- using strategies and tools for collecting and processing information (ACEEE010).

Create a range of texts:

- using appropriate language, content and mode for different purposes and audiences (ACEEE011)
- using text structures and language features to communicate ideas and information in a range of mediums and digital technologies (ACEEE012)
- developing appropriate vocabulary and using accurate spelling, punctuation and grammar (ACEEE013)
- using strategies for planning, recording sources of information and proofreading (ACEEE014).

Representation of Senior Secondary Australian Curriculum: Essential English Unit 2

Senior Secondary Australian Curriculum: Essential English Unit 2 learning outcomes:

- examine how the structure and language of texts varies in different modes, mediums and contexts
- understand reasons for language choices and their effects on audiences in a variety of texts and contexts
- create oral, written and multimodal texts for different purposes, using appropriate communication strategies for interaction with others in real or imagined contexts.

In the proposed English Inquiry Level 2 course are articulated as:

- examine how the structure and language of texts varies in different modes, mediums and contexts
- understand language choices and their effects on audiences in a variety of texts and contexts
- create oral, written and multimodal texts for different purposes, using appropriate communication strategies for interaction with others in real or imagined contexts.

All unit 2 content descriptors are articulated in the course content.

On two occasions, content descriptors have been amalgamated as evidenced through the representation and allocation of content codes below.

Use strategies and skills for comprehending texts including:

- interpreting and making inferences from content, text structures and language features (ACEEE015) (ACEEE016)
- summarising ideas and information presented in texts (ACEEE017)
- identifying similarities and differences between own response to texts and responses of others (ACEEE018).

Consider the ways in which context, purpose and audience influence meaning including:

- the ways in which main ideas, values and supporting details are represented in social, community and workplace texts (ACEEE019)
- the use of language features and the effects of mediums, types of texts and text structures to influence responses (ACEEE020) (ACEEE021).

Use information for specific purposes and contexts by:

- locating and selecting information from a range of sources (ACEEE022)
- using different strategies to select relevant information (ACEEE023) (ACEEE024).

Create a range of texts:

- using persuasive, visual and literary techniques to engage audiences in a range of modes, mediums and contexts (ACEEE025)
- selecting text structures, language features and visual techniques to communicate and represent ideas and information (ACEEE026)
- developing appropriate vocabulary and using accurate spelling, punctuation and grammar (ACEEE027)
- using strategies for planning, drafting and proofreading, and appropriate referencing. (ACEEE028).

Appendix 3 - Work requirements

The work requirements of a course are processes, products or performances that provide a significant demonstration of achievement that is measurable against the course's standards. Work requirements need not be the sole form of assessment for a module.

Note:

- The work requirements for this course must evidence transdisciplinary study between English and a range of disciplines.
- The text type selected must be different across the three work requirements for each module.

Module 1 work requirements specifications

Work requirement 1 of 3

Title of work requirement: Engaging personally with transdisciplinary texts

Mode or format: short response

Description: One short oral presentation aligned to the module description accompanied by a multimodal aide or an audio recording; for example, a podcast. The presentation can be either interpretive or persuasive. Learners make personal connections with specified texts by focusing on the ways language and text structures are used to communicate meaning.

Size: a maximum of 200 words or a maximum of one-minute multimodal created content or equivalent

Timing: will depend upon the learning context and the needs of the individual learner

Relevant criteria:

- Criterion 1: E2, 3, 4
- Criterion 2: E1, 3, 4
- Criterion 6: E1, 2, 3

Work requirement 2 of 3

Title of work requirement: Making connections between transdisciplinary texts

Mode or format: extended response

Description: One written analytical extended response aligned to the module description. Learners make connections between specified texts by examining the ways language and text structures are used to communicate meaning.

Size: a maximum of 800 words

Timing: will depend upon the learning context and the needs of the individual learner

Relevant criteria:

- Criterion 1: E1, 2, 3, 4
- Criterion 3: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 4: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 5: E1, 2, 3, 4
- Criterion 6: E1, 2, 3

Work requirement 3 of 3

Title of work requirement: Engaging imaginatively or persuasively with transdisciplinary texts

Mode or format: extended response

Description: One extended multimodal response, print or non-print or written, imaginative or persuasive text type, aligned to the module description. Learners respond imaginatively or persuasively in response to their learning in the module, demonstrating their ability to make and communicate meaning.

Size: a maximum of 800 words or a maximum of 2 minutes multimodal created content or equivalent

Timing: will depend upon the learning context and the needs of the individual learner

Relevant criteria:

- Criterion 1: E2, 3, 4
- Criterion 2: E2
- Criterion 4: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 5: E1, 2, 3, 4

Module 2 work requirements specifications

Work requirement 1 of 2

Title of work requirement: Engaging critically with transdisciplinary texts

Mode or format: extended response

Description: One extended analytical written response aligned to the module description. Learners choose a short text from a list of options recommended by the teacher and write a short explanation of what it argues and how it does this.

Size: a maximum of 350 words

Timing: will depend upon the learning context and the needs of the individual learner

Relevant criteria:

- Criterion 1: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 3: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 4: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 7: E1, 2, 3

Work requirement 2 of 2

Title of work requirement: Engaging imaginatively and persuasively; compose the same argument in different ways

Mode or format: folio

Description: A folio comprised of written or multimodal print or non-print; imaginative and persuasive pieces. Learners write persuasively about the same idea using different text types.

The folio will comprise:

1. one extended imaginative narrative text, multimodal or written
2. one extended persuasive text, multimodal or written
3. one short context statement explaining the contention, the connection between text types, the purpose, the audience, oral or written

Size:

- a maximum of 2 minutes for an extended multimodal non print text
- a maximum of 800 words for an extended written response
- a maximum of 250 words for a short-written context statement

Timing: will depend upon the learning context and the needs of the individual learner

Relevant criteria:

- Criterion 1: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 2: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 3: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 4: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 5: E1, 2, 3, 4
- Criterion 7: E1, 2, 3

Module 3 Work requirements specifications

Work requirement 1 of 1

Title of work requirement: How can issues be represented in transdisciplinary texts?

Mode or format: negotiated study

Description: One negotiated study with oral, written and multimodal; analytical and interpretive, persuasive or imaginative pieces developed through the individual negotiated inquiry aligned to the module description and title. Appendix 7 contains the negotiated study checklist that must be completed by the learner and signed off by the teacher.

The negotiated study will comprise three different text types:

- one extended analytical response
- one extended persuasive or imaginative response
- one short interpretive oral presentation accompanied by a multimodal aide or an audio recording; for example, a podcast.

Size:

- a maximum of 800 words for an extended written response
- a maximum of 2 minutes for an extended multimodal non print text
- a maximum of 2 minutes for a short oral presentation or audio recording.

Timing: The individual negotiated inquiry should comprise approximately 30 percent of the module time.

Relevant criteria:

- Criterion 1: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 2: E1, 2, 3, 4
- Criterion 3: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 4: E1, 2, 3
- Criterion 5: E1, 2, 3, 4, 5
- Criterion 8: E1, 2, 3

Appendix 4 – General capabilities and cross-curriculum priorities

Learning across the curriculum content, including the cross-curriculum priorities and general capabilities, assists students to achieve the broad learning outcomes defined in the Alice Springs (Mparntwe) Education Declaration (December 2019).

General capabilities:

The general capabilities play a significant role in the Australian Curriculum in equipping young Australians to live and work successfully in the twenty-first century.

In the Australian Curriculum, capability encompasses knowledge, skills, behaviours and dispositions. Students develop capability when they apply knowledge and skills confidently, effectively and appropriately in complex and changing circumstances, in their learning at school and in their lives outside school.

The general capabilities include:

- Critical and creative thinking
- Ethical understanding
- Information and communication technology capability
- Intercultural understanding
- Literacy

- Numeracy
- Personal and social capability.

Cross-curriculum priorities:

Cross-curriculum priorities enable students to develop understanding about and address the contemporary issues they face, for their own benefit and for the benefit of Australia as a whole. The priorities provide national, regional and global dimensions which will enrich the curriculum through development of considered and focused content that fits naturally within learning areas. Incorporation of the priorities will encourage conversations between students, teachers and the wider community.

The cross-curriculum priorities include:

- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories and cultures
- Asia and Australia's engagement with Asia
- Sustainability

Appendix 6 – Text Selection

In the English Inquiry Level 2 course, text selection is a school-based decision comprising teacher-selected and some student selected texts.

Learners will engage with at least five short teacher selected transdisciplinary texts in modules 1 and 2:

- two non-print multimodal texts
- two written texts: one fiction, one non-fiction
- one spoken text.

In module 3 Learners will engage with at least five short transdisciplinary texts:

- two teacher selected texts to establish and support the learning for the individual negotiated inquiry.
- three learner selected texts used for study in the individual negotiated inquiry, in different forms and media appropriate to the module focus, level of complexity and course standards.

A short text is a text that can be read, viewed or listened to in one session, 1 hour and a half duration maximum.

Texts will be selected from the English discipline and other disciplines aligned to the module description.

Texts selected should reflect the interests and needs of learners.

Texts are referred to in this course as Contemporary spoken, written and multimodal texts from a range of disciplines

Texts include all forms of augmentative and alternative communication; for example, gesture, signing, real objects, photographs, pictographs, pictograms and braille.

Texts selected for study in English Inquiry Level 2 must be unique to each module.

Teacher selected texts

- Australian texts must be included in each module.
- Providers must enable learners' opportunities to engage with a wide range of texts to encourage their development as language learners and users.
- The texts selected must be contemporary, engaging and accessible for level two learners.
- There must be a range and balance in the texts that learners read, listen to and view.
- Learners must be given the opportunity to study contemporary popular culture texts, media texts, creative expressive texts, informative and persuasive texts and affiliative and collaborative texts, or workplace texts.
- Texts selected for the course of study may also be narrative, reflective, interpretive, procedural, persuasive, informative, creative, technical, regulatory or descriptive texts in complete form or extracts.

Where appropriate, learners should engage with short texts or extracts from:

- texts by Aboriginal authors and those that give insights into diverse experiences of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander peoples
- different places and cultures, including the Asia–Pacific region
- texts with a wide range of cultural, social and gender perspectives, and popular and youth cultures

- literary texts.
