The Visual Arts play a significant role in recording, shaping and reflecting the culture and context of any given society at a given time

Study of the Visual Arts promotes innovation and creative and critical thinking skills, vital for young people in the 21st Century. Tasmanians value and support creative and cultural industries which contribute significantly to the economy and Tasmanian cultural identity. Art Practice Level 2 encourages learners to experience and produce work in a variety of artistic mediums. Learners create and experience artwork in three studios and develop understanding of the relationship between their work and artistic ideas, techniques and concepts. Innovation, collaborative practice and experimentation are recognised and encouraged. Through the study of Art Practice Level 2 learners develop aesthetic understanding that assists them to appreciate and make artworks. Art Practice Level 2 belongs to a suite of courses in art and provides opportunities for learners to obtain skills in developing and communicating art ideas in a variety of contexts. It promotes creative thinking and motivation.

Course Description

Art Practice Level 2 is a dynamic course that offers learners an opportunity to experiment and work in a range of artistic studio areas in the visual arts. Innovation, taking risks and experimentation (in the creation of Art) are cornerstones of the course and learners are encouraged to push their own boundaries in the production of art. Learners focus their work in three studios, through which they will discover how to experience, make and respond to works of art. Learners will produce works that are resolved as finished visual art pieces. Learners are also required to develop a support folio of source material that reflects their thinking processes and that serves as a record of their idea generation and development.

Rationale

The Visual Arts play a significant role in recording, shaping and reflecting the culture and context of any given society at a given time. Study of the Visual Arts promotes innovation and creative and critical thinking skills, vital for young people in the 21st Century. Tasmanians value and support creative and cultural industries which contribute significantly to the economy and Tasmanian cultural identity.

Art Practice Level 2 encourages learners to experience and produce work in a variety of artistic mediums. Learners create and experience artwork in three studios and develop understanding of the relationship between their work and artistic ideas, techniques and concepts. Innovation, collaborative practice and experimentation are recognised and encouraged. Through the study of Art Practice Level 2 learners develop aesthetic understanding that assists them to appreciate and make artworks.

Art Practice Level 2 belongs to a suite of courses in art and provides opportunities for learners to obtain skills in developing and communicating art ideas in a variety of contexts. It promotes creative thinking and motivation.

Aims

Art Practice Level 2 is designed to allow learners to experience artmaking across a variety of studios, encouraging experimentation and innovation. The course values divergence, uniqueness and individuality.

Art Practice Level 2 aims to develop learners' aesthetic understanding and capacity to translate their visual thinking skills across a variety of contexts.

Course Content

OVERVIEW

Art Practice Level 2 is comprised of four (4) compulsory units of study:

1. Experiences
2. Ideas (Studio 1)
3. Inspirations (Studio 2)
4. Communications (Studio 3).

Elements of Design:	Principles of Design:
• line	• unity
• value	• variety
• texture	• balance
• shape	• emphasis
• colour	• space

They experience and experiment with a variety of appropriate materials in order to connect their understanding with the ability to apply these principles in artmaking.

Learners are encouraged to consider sustainability and explore implications of materials and technologies in sustainable art practices.

Artmaking:

- experimenting with principles of art and design
- experimenting with different ways to represent own thoughts and feelings
- following processes to produce artworks
- developing visual language
- reflecting and finding ways to improve artwork
- investigating artists and artworks to learn about practice.

Art Interpretation:

- recording information and ideas in visual diary/journal
- referring to visual language in formal and informal contexts
- discussing how artworks are composed

- Compilation of practical experimentation
- One (1) response to use of design elements and principles in art (* see Summary of Minimum Work Requirements).

UNIT 2: IDEAS (STUDIO 1)

In this Unit learners are introduced to artmaking from different times and places (including postmodernism). They are exposed to hybrid and experimental works that influence their own artmaking potential. They explore ways to represent ideas, beliefs, emotions and feelings through manipulating art elements, techniques and materials. Through research and/or first-hand experience, learners explore how artists represent their ideas and develop artistic intent:

Artistic intent:

- intention or meaning behind the work
- artistic choices made to represent meaning
- selected use of artistic principles
- purpose or circumstances for/in which work was created
- deliberate inclusion or exclusion of techniques, materials and technologies.

They experience their first specific studio to realise their practical work. Learners are supported to create works that express their own ideas in creative ways using appropriate creative processes, inclusive of visual diaries/journals.

Artmaking:

- exploring techniques used by different artists
- exploring ways to create artworks using stimulus materials
- reflecting on and refining own artmaking
- using own ideas and beliefs to create meaning through artmaking.

Art Interpretation:

- recording information and ideas in Visual Diary/Journal
- discussing the ideas of others
- identifying how time and place influence ideas in artwork
- describing concepts, materials and form
- outlining processes and steps undertaken to create artworks.

WORK REQUIREMENTS – UNIT 2

- At least two (2) completed artworks
- Use of Visual Diary/Journal
- Documentation of technical processes
- One (1) response* describing and analysing ideas in artworks (* see Summary of Minimum Work Requirements).

UNIT 3: INSPIRATIONS (STUDIO 2)

This Unit focuses on inspirations. Learners are aware that artists gain inspiration and generate ideas from diverse sources:

Sources of inspiration may include:

- life experiences
- history
- sensory experiences (music/soundscapes, food, fragrance, texture, etc...)
- imaginings or invention
- exposure to the works of others
- stimulus material
- surroundings.

Through research and/or first-hand experience, learners consider ways in which artists are inspired to create artworks. They view the work of artists with diverse sources of inspiration. Learners are given opportunities to find inspiration from a diverse array of stimuli and sources to create artwork in their second studio.

Artmaking:

- exploring the inspirations of other artists
- utilising sources of inspiration to guide artmaking

Art Interpretation:

- recording information and ideas in visual diary/journal
- selecting sources of information and inspiration
- commenting on subject matter, meaning and relationship to formal organisation – composition
- identifying own and others sources of inspiration
- discussing the ways in which inspiration has influenced the outcomes of own and others' work.

WORK REQUIREMENTS – UNIT 3

- At least two (2) completed artworks
- Use of Visual Diary/Journal
- Documentation of technical processes
- One (1) response* describing and analysing inspiration in artworks (* see Summary of Minimum Work Requirements).

UNIT 4: COMMUNICATIONS (STUDIO 3)

In this Unit learners examine how artists use artwork as a means of communication. They acknowledge that art can be used to communicate not only ideas and emotions but provide commentary or opinion on issues, events or experiences.

Learners understand how artists have communicated both in modern times and in the past through their own research and/or first-hand experience. They use their third studio area to produce artwork that communicates and documents their thinking around an issue, event or concept.

Learners are encouraged to develop personal voice to communicate with an intended audience.

Assessment

Criterion-based assessment is a form of outcomes assessment that identifies the extent of learner achievement at an appropriate end-point of study. Although assessment – as part of the learning program – is continuous, much of it is formative, and is done to help learners identify what they need to do to attain the maximum benefit from their study of the course. Therefore, assessment for summative reporting to TASC will focus on what both teacher and learner understand to reflect end-point achievement.

The standard of achievement each learner attains on each criterion is recorded as a rating 'A', 'B', or 'C', according to the outcomes specified in the standards section of the course.

A 't' notation must be used where a learner demonstrates any achievement against a criterion less than the standard specified for the 'C' rating.

A 'z' notation is to be used where a learner provides no evidence of achievement at all.

Providers offering this course must participate in quality assurance processes specified by TASC to ensure provider validity and comparability of standards across all awards. To learn more, see TASC's quality assurance processes and assessment information.

Internal assessment of all criteria will be made by the provider. Providers will report the learner's rating for each criterion to TASC.

Quality Assurance Process

The following processes will be facilitated by TASC to ensure there is:

- a match between the standards of achievement specified in the course and the skills and knowledge demonstrated by individual learners
- community confidence in the integrity and meaning of the qualification.

Process

TASC will verify that the provider's course-delivery and assessment meet the course requirements and community expectations for fairness, integrity and validity of qualifications TASC issues. This will involve checking:

- scope and sequence documentation (Provider Standard 1):
 - course delivery plan
 - course assessment plan (assessment matrix)
- student attendance records (Provider Standard 2)
- examples of assessments tools / instruments, and associated rubrics / marking guides (Provider Standard 3)
- examples of student work, including that related to any work requirements articulated in the course document (Provider Standard 1 & 3)
- class records of assessment (Provider Standard 4).

This process will be scheduled by TASC using a risk-based approach.

Criteria

The assessment for Art Practice Level 2 will be based on the degree to which the learner can:

1. apply elements and principles of design to produce art works
2. use a variety of artistic conventions in the creation of art works

In general, the countries of northern Europe rejected religious imagery as a result of the Protestant Reformation. (Protestants believed that religious paintings violated the 2 nd Commandment against graven images.) Thus, much Baroque art from those countries includes landscapes, portraits, and still-life paintings. In other parts of Catholic Europe, artists of the Baroque period painted dramatic images, including religious themes, characterised by energy, tension, and sharp contrasts of light and dark intensity.

The Impressionists looked to the life around them as the inspiration for their paintings of sunlit landscapes, middle-class people at leisure, and mothers with children. The many inventions of the Industrial Revolution included portable oil paints and easels that allowed the artist to break free of the studio and paint en plein air (out of doors), or from sketches done directly on the spot. This approach encouraged the use of spontaneous, unblended brushstrokes of vibrant colour by these artists.

The new creative possibilities encouraged a great diversity of activity, and artists experimented with new visual formats and ideas.
